GOSSIP OF THE RUNNERS. TROUBLE OVER THE DISPUTED

OWNERSHIP OF THE RHYMER. The Colt Disappears and a Warrant Will Be Sworn Out This Morning-Echoes of Last week's Racing-Standing May Never Start Again-Forthcoming BrigLton, Attractions.

The racing at Brighton Beach during the past week was so brimful of incident that horsemen found yesterday all too short to review the sitnation. Among the double winners whose performances are the subject of favorable comment, Heliobas possibly made the strongest ment, Helious possibly made the strongest impression. He began the week auspiciously by defeating Firearm, after the latter had taken such a lead that catching seemed an impossibility. The pace while Firearm lasted was something to remembered, but Heliobas tore up the stretch without a falter. The impressiveness of his win and the fact that it had been accompished within one-fifth of a second of the new world's record for six furlongs made by Voter a few days before, was overlooked within fortyeight hours and when Heliobas turned out again on Wednesday the so-called talent went hunting through the entries for a horse to beat him. They argued that he had to carry 135 pounds as against 113 on Monday; that the feld was larger and that the small gale which was whistling through the apertures of the grand stand would materially assist the other conditions in choking him off. Accordingly the horse was allowed to run loose at a fa'se price. Weight never worried Heliouas, and it did not on Mednesday. His opponents failed to hold him, because they are not in the same class, and the gale proved equally futile, for the reason that the hors has long since outgrown the trouble in his breathing apparatus.

This is only one instance of the many where form players might recall with advantage the refrain of the once popular: "It doesn't matter what you were-it's what you are to-

Another double winner who caused a flutter among owners of future stake candidates was Brigadier, who won a very fast mile and a sixteenth on Monday and followed it up with a sensational win at one mile and an eighth on Wednesday. The sensation was created by the almost criminal over-confidence of Ransch and the alertness of Lew Kraft's rider. Brigadier had settled down to a lope when challenged and it took a lot of urging to get him going again in time. The surprises of the week were the defeat of Administration by Standing and the decave drubbing administered to Jack Point by Maximo Gomez. Standing, unfortunately, broke down after his grand performance and it was said on good authority yesterday that he will hardly ever race again. The trouble is in the near fore leg, which bothered him last year. and it is beginning to look incurable.

What is termed a "revival of the selling-race war" is also the subject of lively comment. Why so much fuse should be made over it is difficult to understand as every owner entering his horse under his value in a selling race does so at his own risk. Bidding up and "claiming" may lead to much temporary unpleasantness. as was demonstrated at Gravesend, Sheepshead Bay and the present meeting, but veteran racing men think it shows a far healthier state of affairs than in the old days when stake horses monopolized the small purses without

The unconscious hero of the latest act in the selling-race comedy is The Rhymer, a twoyear-old bay colt by the Bard-Equipoise, who raced for W. C. Whitney until "ciaimed" a few weeks ago by the colored trainer, J. White. The latter ran him at Brighton Beach last Thursday, when he finished second to his former stable mate, Luke Ward. Rumors were immediately circulated through the raddock as to the real ownership of The Rhymer, and the stewards took the matter under advisement.

Their decision was announced in THE SUN Their decision was announced in The Sun y esterday and at once J. Monahan, who is said to have furnished most of the money when White annexed the coit, decided to take him away, and telephoned to Capt. Gailagner, of Sheenshead Bay, for protection. The captain furnished it, but when the posse reached Brighton Beach an empty stall confronted them. "Rail birds" say that some one tipped White off, and that when last seen the coit and trainer were burning up space in a straightaway race against time up the Boulevard, wonahan will away.

that when last seen the coit and trainer were burning up space in a straightaway race against tine up the Boulevard. Monahan will swear out a warrant this morning for the arrest of the trainer and take whatever steps are needed for the recovery of the coit, if both are not outside jurisdiction by this time.

Horsemen are reminded that entries close today for a series of important stakes to be decided at the autumn meeting of the Coney island Jockey Club, and that declarations are also due as follows: the Futurity of 1900 at $50 or $70 e ch, the September of 1900 at $10 each, the Futurity of 1901 at $10 or $20 each, the Lawrence of 1901, foal entries at $25 each, yearling entries at $50 each; the Annual Champion, foal entries of 1898, $25, yearling entries, $50; foal entries of 1898, $25, yearling entries, $50; foal entries of 1898, $25, yearling entries, $50; foal entries of 1898, $25, warding entries, $50 ing while Voter may struggle on to the end with 122 pounds after the ease with which he with evoter may struggle on to the end with 122 pounds after the ease with which he has been running six furlongs recently. Jack Point with 117 and May Hempstead with 111 look nicely placed and some of the others entitled to consideration, if they accept, are Pet uchio 108. Missionary 102, Modrine 101 and Mesmerist 99

Wednesday's card is strengthened by the Bab lon Stakes, of $30 each, $101 orfeit, with $1,000 added, for three-year-olds at seven furlongs. As there are selling conditions attached, the topnotchers will probably hold aloof, leaving a well-balanced race between such speedy performers of the second division as Carbuncle, Cupidity, First Whip, Fluke, Hammock, Her Ladyship, Mark Cheek, Oread, Pink Domino, Prejudice, Red Path, Rikki Tikki Tavi, San Cecila and Trumpet. In addition there is a handcap for three-year-olds and upward at one mile and a furlong.

The red-letter event on Thursday's programme is the Atlantic Stakes of $30 each, $10 orfeit, with $1.250 acded; for two-year-olds, at $2 furlongs. Penalities and allo vances are profound for in the conditions and as the entries amount to seventy-three a representative field seems assured with such material to choose from as Black Fox, Bonnibert, Handwork, Irritable, Princess Ottilie, Tom Kenny, Outlander and the pick of the numerous Pepper birade. The card will be rounded out with a handcap for three-year-olds and upward at one mile and a quarier.

Yachting Notes.

William W. Pell, chairman, and William Vincent, comprising the Regatta Committee of the Jamaica Bay Yacht Club, yesterday remeasured the seven yachts that competed in the championship race held under the auspices of the Jamaica Bay Yacht Club. The Jupiter was found to be 27 feet 5 inchea, and her disqualification was assured. This gave the championship to the Arrow of the Canaraie Yacht Club, and owned by Cammodore Charles J. Nelison. The final stancing of the boats in the contest, as officially announced yesterday, is: Arrow, first, Lillie S., second, Mattle, third, and Unceda, fourth.

BAYSHORE, July 15.—The first of the series of special races of the Penataquit-Corinthian Yacht Club, for Class N. sloops, was sailed to-day on the Great South Bay. Only four boats started—the Adeline, Horace Havemeyer, and the Marle, Aymar Johnson, being detained by fog in the run from Newson Genetic West Three. Willing, and thesayang deline, Horace Havemeyer, and the Marie, Aymar Johnson, being detained by fog in the run from Newport—Gayety, Wee Three, Viking, and Osawana. The sea was quite rough and the breeze strong, and the boats made exceptionally fast time. The Gayety won in 1 hour 49 minutes and 47 seconds, beating the record for the bay, made by Henry O. Havemeyer's crack sloop Impatience on Independence Day. The Osawana was second, Viking third, and the Wee Three brought up the rear.

The Olympic Yacht Club held its annual regatta yesterday over a ten-mile triangular course in the Upper Bay. The wind was quite fresh at the start, but it died away on the last leg of the run home, and some of the larger craft had hard work to finish within the time limit. It was a run with booms to port to the first mark, then a reach with eased sheets to the next mark buoy, and windward work to the finish on the last leg. The winners were: Class A, sloops, 20 to 25 feet, Ricardo, J. H. Winters; class B, open catboats, 20 feet or over, Cygnet, B. V. Nelson; open catboats, 18 to 20 feet, Turtle, J. M. Williams; open catboats, 18 feet or under, Emma A., S. D. Gardiner.

Records of Brooklyn and New York Players. It was a disastrous week for Jones, whose batting average was lessened considerably since last Monday. Howell and Farrell now have a commanding lead over the outfielder. Keeler still stays near the 300 mark and is in fifth place, Kelley leading Billy by eight points. Since George Davis rejoined the New York team he has added a few points to his average, thereby drawing away from Selbach. The records follow:

CRACK SCULLERS IN TOWN.

DETROIT OARSMEN TRY THEIR BOATS ON THE SPEEDWAY COURSE.

The Wachusett Four, With E. H. Ten Eyck. the Champion Scaller, Arrive and Will Be-gin Work To-day-Large Crowd Watch the Training for National Regatta. Harlem River oarsmen assumed an air of mportance yesterday in view of the National Regatta, which will take place for the first time under local management during the last three days of this week. The arrival and practice of some of the crews from other cities also added to the activity and interest displayed, and in addition to a full complement of mem bers at the different boathouses, the bridges over the river were crowded with spectators who closely scrutinized the work of the prom-

James Pilkington, chairman of the Local Committee, and Fred R. Fortmeyer, Secretary of the N. A. A. O., were on the river early, but H. W. Walters, chairman of the Transportation Committee, had the most trying situation to encounter. The Worcester and Detroit contingents arrived at the Grand Central Depot early in the morning with their boats. The railroad officials had promised to switch the cars containing the shells to the High Bridge station, but no one had received instructions to do so, and it was well on in the afternoon before Chairman Walters got out of the difficulty by transferring the craft to High Bridge by express. The float of the temporary boathouse was not finished, and it was nearly 5 o'clock before the last of the seven shells was launched in a precarious manner from a coal barge and did yeoman service, to the latter's boathouse, where accommodation is provided for the

they were hastily rigged out shortly after 5 o'clock. The Senior four-oared shell crew went out for a trial row over the course, scated s follows: J. Lyon, 1; W. Mower, 2; Divie B. Duffield, 3; H. Leonard, stroke. The men gained a big reputation by defeating the noted Argonaut four at the Canadian regatts on July 2. Their work justified the good opinion already formed by experts of their ability. They kept splendid time and put an immens amount of power into their stroke, which is

They kept splendid time and put an immense amount of power into their stroke, which is an old-fashioned one, pulled well through at the end. The Detroit intermediate four crew followed shortly after the senior, rowing as follows: J. Knight, I: H. L. Pierson, 2: C. Harris, 3: W. Baldwin, stroke. They also rowed up alongside the Speedway. The club also brought on a pairoared shell, but it was not rigged in time for Andrews and Mower, who will probably row in the regatta, to take any exercise yesterday. The Westerners point proudly to the fact that the crews will represent the second generation of Detroit B. C. oarsmen. The father of W. Baldwin, stroke of the intermediate four, stroked a Detroit crew twenty years ago, while the father of Fred Andrews, Secretary of the club at the present time, was Secretary of the organization in 1873. James Rice accompanied the Detroit crews as coach.

When it was known that the Wachusett B. C. representatives had arrived there was a general desire to see E. H. Ten Eyck, the champion sculler, and inquiries were made about him at the different boat houses. The Worcester crack was, however, tucked away in bed at the Hotel Minot by his father, J. A. Ten Eyck, Senior, and the other members of the four-oared crew then went up to Highbridge and assisted in removing the shells to the Atalanta house. There are only four men in the Wachusett contingent, but they will row in several races. Ten Eyck will compete in the championship singles and Paris singles, and will row in the doubles with C. H. Lewis as a partner. In the four-oared races they will be joined by C. E. Day and J. K. Johnson. The Detroit and Worcester men were rather upset at the confirmation of the news published in The Sux that the four-oared races they will be joined by C. E. Day and J. K. Johnson. The Detroit and Worcester men were rather upset at the confirmation of the news published in The Sux that the four-oared event at Paris would be rowed by crews carrying a conswain.

J. A. Ten Eyck said:

The ontile wider than th

sary coxswain."
Should the Detroit crew win the four-oared should the Detroit crew win the four-cared race it will have one man in the boat accustomed to row in coxswain shells, as Duffield, who rows 3, was a member of his class crew at Harvard, where it is still the custom to use coxswains. The matter was discussed by several of the official vectoriaty in the horse of finding a way to row in coxswain shells, as Duffield, who rows 3, was a member of his class crew at Harvard, where it is still the custom to use coxswains. The matter was discussed by several of the officials vesterday in the hope of finding a way out of the difficulty, as not any of the boat clubs own a good coxswain four-oared shell. It is thought that a boat may be borrowed from Yale, Harvard or Columbia, or in default of this an order will be cabled to Clasper to build a shell for use in the Paris race, which could be sold afterward to one of the French rowing clubs.

Contrary to its custom not to row on Sundays the Knickerbocker A. C. eight was out about 11 o'clock. The men did not impress the critics favorably, but this may be due to the fact that they are not yet accustomed to the new shell which has just been received. Holt, the bow man, has been sick for two days and this has upset the crew a little. On the strength of the work done by the "Cherry Diamond" oarsmen since their arrival on the Harlem last Thursday odds are offered that the Bohemians will beat the Knickerbockers in the senior race. The "Bohoes" did good work yesterday morning. They rowed over the full course at a stroke varying from thirty-six to thirty-eight. Coach Van Vliet was in a centipede with the Bohemian scullers, and in the trial spin the eight gave the centipede crew one minute start over the one nulle and a half. The eight got on even terms with the centipede at one mile and won the trial by ten lengths.

The Institute B. C. senior four of Newark arrived at the Lone Star B. C. house vesterday and went out for a spin over the full Speedway course at 4:30 o'clock. Bates and Naughton, the Nonpareil R. C. intermediate double, also rowed a good trial. They were pitted against a centipede crew of the same club and held the four scullers in good style for about a mile of the lower course, but he placed the fin of his shell well aft and is now able to manage the boat better. The Dauntless intermediate eight rowed in taking style, coached by Davy Roac among the delegates to the meeting yesterday:

To the Members of the N. A. A. O.:

The Detroit Boat Club presents Mr. Divie B. Duffield as its candidate for the position on the Executive Committee made vacant by the expiration of the term of Mr. W. C. Jupp. As Mr. Jupp is also from Detroit, and has been in the past a representative of this club on this committee, and as he is a candidate to succeed himself, some explanation seems in order. While this club does not wish to inflict outsiders with its own quarrels, it nevertheless feels warranted in giving as briefly as possible its reasons for this circular.

its own quarrels, it nevertheless feels warranted in giving as briefly as possible its reasons for this circular.

Mr. Jupp, failing in several club elections, among others to be nominated as the club's candidate for a position on the Executive Committee of the N. A. A. O. became so embittered toward the club and its management that he antagonized all the active rowing men and caused the directors, in whose charge is the entire management of the club, to become convinced that he could no longer give it disinterested representation. In consequence, the club has for some time felt that it was not in touch with the National Association except in so far as it received from time to time the purely formal circulars of the National Secretary. As the position of this club in this district has been such as to warrant its having a representative on the National Committee for the past twenty years, it feels emboddened to ask that its candidate, Mr. Duffield, again be given the position. The clubs in the West which are indorsing Mr. Jupp, with but few exceptions, no longer take an active part in rowing, as is evidenced by the absence of their entries in the several regattas. The election of the candicate of these clubs would not give to the active rowing interest in this district any representation.

Mr. Duffield is the unanimous choice of the Board

The election of the candicate of these clubs would not give to the active rowing interest in this district any representation.

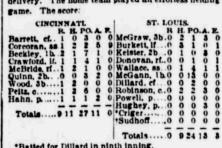

Mr. Duffield is the unanimous choice of the Board of Directors and of the club for the present position, and has all the qualifications for the place, having taken an active interest in rowing since his entering Harvard University. In which he was a member of his class crew. He is a member of our senior crew, entered in this year's regattas. Not only as an oarsman is Mr. Duffield qualified for a place on the Executive Committee, we found Mr. Duffield, while Vice-President of the club, to be a wise counsellor and, were he elected on the Executive Committee, would bring to the deliberations of that body a mind mature beyond his years, which would make person subordinate to the Interest of the association, and would vouchsafe to every one having a grievance before the committee such a consideration as his cause would merit. He is the law partner of his father, Gen. Henry M. Duffield and an officer of the Navai Reserves, having served during the Spanish-American War on the U.S. S. Yosemie

If you are to be represented at the convention by a delegate, may we have a chance to present our case to him? If by a mail voic for Mr. Duffield, please notify Mr. H. L. Pierson, Hotel Minot, 126th street and Eighth avenue. New York city.

sentative field of starters. The class of the boys as golfers indicates that there will be stirring contests. Harry B. Hollins, Jr., the interscholastic champion of the M. G. A. district will have to do his best to beat some of the crack players from out of town who did not take part in the tournament at Garden City, at which young Hollins won his title. The team matches played on nearby links during the past fortnight by the St. Paul's, St. Mark's and Pomfret boys prove that this will be the case. The course is one of the longest of nine holes in the country and in its turf and wide putting greens it much resembles the Garden City links, which is only three miles away. One of the competitors will be F. O. Reinbart of St. Paul's, who played No. 1 in the team match at Baltusrol last week and beat the former intercollegiate champion, Louis P. Bayard, Jr., by 3 up and who mad the course in 81, which is very close to the amateur record at Short Hills. Byers, a brother to the Yale golfer who was so prominent in the amateur championship, is also a St. Paul boy, and P. H. Jennings, who put out Hugh K. Toler at Baltusrol. is another who should do well at Meadow Brook. H. S. Hitchcock, who won the consolation cup at the Newport open tournament, is a Pomfret boy. He is a brother to C. Hitchcock, Jr., of Yale. Archie Reid of the Lawrenceville school, another absentee from the interscholas tic tournament, will also be at Meadow Brook. He failed to qualify in the amateur championship, but on Independence Day he won the handicap at St. Andrew's, making the best gross score of 89. Three of the local players who will add to the interest will be G. Down Winston and E. Bell, Jr., of Cutler, and C. H. Seeley of Berkeley. U. A. Murdock will be a strong card for St. Mark's.

Another event of special importance during he week will be the first annual handicap of the Produce Exchange members at the Fox Hills Golf Club links. It will be the formal opening of the course, for it will be the first special competition held over the links since it has passed into the possession of the new club. The course was laid out last year by the former Staten Island Cricket and Baseball Club, which, with George Vanderbilt, the owner of the property. George Vanderbilt, the owner of the property, went to considerable expense to improve. As natural advantages of the location for golf are many, it is expected that the course will soon rank with the best in the M. G. A. district. There will be over thirty starters in the Produce Exchange handicap, and as the dealers number many prominent golfers, the contest should be a good one.

The competitive season is now on in full sway at the inland and seaside resort links. Open tournaments will be as usual a feature at many of the clubs. The Shinnecock Hills Golf Club will hold its annual open event for men during the week of July 23, and later on there will be similar tournaments at Narragansett Pier. Stockbridge, Lenox, Newport and Bar Harbor, and, probably, the Deal Beach Club will enter the list for the first time. Newport is already crowded with gollers, and, as many of the players are also ardent automobilists, an electric installing plant has been set up for their convenience at the golf club.

H. B. McClellan won the Governor's Cup in the monthly handicap competition on the Edge-water Goif Club links, Bergen Point, Saturday.

A new amateur star burst into view at the Vailsburg races yesterday in the person of W. S. Fenn of Waterbury, Conn. At home he has been styled "The Boy Wonder of the Nutmeg State," and his riding of yesterday fully justified the title. He started in a field of thirty-four of the best amateurs in the country, in a twenty-five mile race, in which prizes were offered for the leader at each five mile and for the one leading in the greatest number of laps, besides those offered for the winner. Fenn won the race and made a marvellous performance, catching would-be runaways and beating the best of his competitors in the sprints for the intermediate prizes. Summaries:

It was the lightest clear Sunday of the season on the roads yesterday. A goodly crowd took the cycle paths to Coney Island, but the country roads were dull. The Merrick pike was no better than a poor dirt road and there were few on it. At Valley Stream, though the heat seemed to make no difference, thousands managed to get there to mingle with the century enthusiasts and listen to the animated discussions of road riding. It was the seventh day of century riding for Mrs. E.R. Bayne and she was in her eleventh century, which she completed soon after 10 o'clock last night. The little woman was as bright as when she started and looked far better than she did on last Thursday and Friday. Her feet have become badly bruised from the pedals. She lost a pound and a half of her 98 pounds. She completed her 1,000 miles with a quadruple century, covering 400 miles from 7 o'clock Friday morning to 6:15 o'clock yesterday morning. After her eleventh century she went to bed to sleep until this morning. She is confident she can keep going for thirty days.

PROVIDENCE, July 15.—Ben Monroe beat Joe Downey this afternoon in a twenty-mile motor-paced race at the Crescent Park track. It was a good contest up to the sixth mile. From that time on, however, Monroe easily led throughout the rest of the distance, fini-hing in 37:20 4-5. As a side event the amateurs scheduled for the "sprints" struck in a body. The trouble was the outcome of the failure of the management to furnish prizes won at previous meets. The riders were willing to go on if Manager Hill would deposit a forfeit. This he refused to do and the short distance events were scratched.

Suffolk county, with one exception, wants to go on record as being the banner county for sidepaths. Last year Monroe county sold 40,000 tags, which netted $10,000, while Suffolk sold 20,000 and netted the same amount, her tags being sold for double the price. This year Suffolk will likely sell 30,000 tags, and as the price remains the same, 50 cents, the county will have $15,000 to spend on the sidepaths. Mile after mile of path has been built and at the present time the Sidepath Commission is laying out work which will last all the season. The Suffolk county sidepath license tags are good in any county in New York State, and any one contemplating a trip will have no trouble in procuring the tags.

Boston, July 15 - Percy F. Cavill, the champion swimmer of England and Australia, who arrived here several days ago and is matched to swim five races on Aug. 25 against James L. McCusker, the American champion, for $2,500 a side, had a can champion, for $2,500 a side, had a severe experience on the occasion of his first dip in salt water on this side to-day. This afternoon, Cavili went to Revere Beach for a swim and a large crowd gathered to witness his performance. The term erature of the water north of Cape Cod on the ocean front is rarely warmer than 60 degrees and at Revere Beach to-day it was no exception to the general rule. Cavill remarked on the coldness of the water when he took his first plunge, but nevertheless remained in for some time. He was taken with a chill and had to be carried to the emergency room in the State bath house, where stimulants and hot water bags restored him to his normal condition.
